Stepping Out. Students show what it takes to step out at a pep rally.

Stepping Out

Although we often march to the beat of a different drummer, we each are stepping out in our own unique way. Whether it be our choice of friends, classes, or clothes, we make our surroundings the place to be and our actions the things to do. Indeed, the actions say it all. From the halls to the baseball diamond to the classrooms, we make every place a stage upon which to display ourselves. We make sure that in everything, the spotlight is there and everyone's eyes are on us as we are STEPPING OUT.

. . . on the stage. Paige Pearce readies herself for her part in the musical Scrooge.

. . . with friends. Shelly Burns and Theresa Mank stop to enjoy a good laugh.

. . . with pride. Crazy Day toga wearers included Scott Satko, Amy Isaacs, and Brian Metzler.

. . . in charge. Drum major Stephen Gardner directs the much celebrated Marching Truckers.

. . . on the baseball diamond. Cary House keeps his eye on the ball in the Trucker-Wildcat game.

. . . with the merchandise. Damon Hogan assists Mr. Sykes in selling unicorn notepads for the industrial arts classes.

. . . in the classroom. Geometry teacher Mrs. Helen Luster explains the angle-side-angle theory.

STUDENT LIFE

Looking Back

Class Of 1984 "Trucks On By"!

Spring was in the air, and everyone's thoughts were on June and summer. For some spring brought new challenges in track, baseball, and tennis. For others, especially the seniors, spring brought a time for a reflection on their four years at Churchland and on the future. As the final strands of "Pomp and Circumstance" were heard, the members of the class of 1984 assumed their places as alumni of Churchland High School. They were now ready to face the challenges that life had to offer.

And as soon as the class of 1984 had "Trucked on By", the class of 1988 made its appearance in the spotlight for the first time, ready for their chance to begin "Stepping Out".

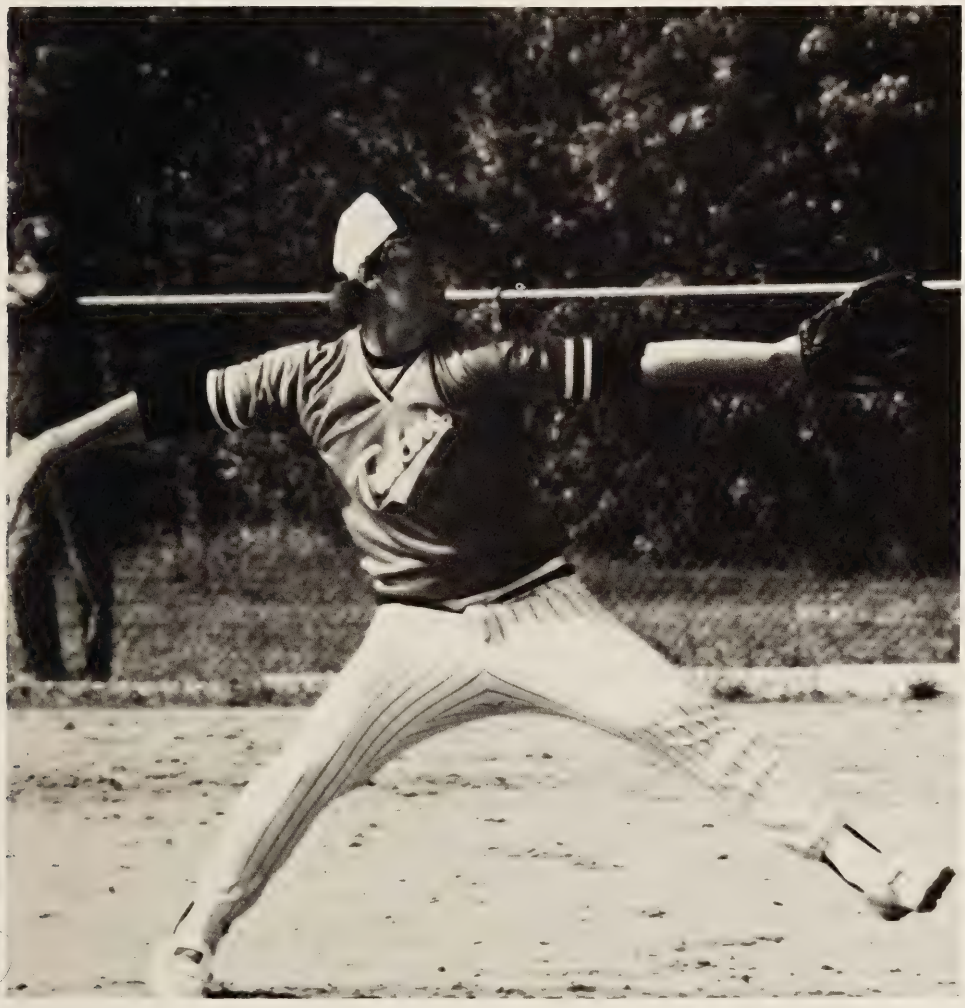
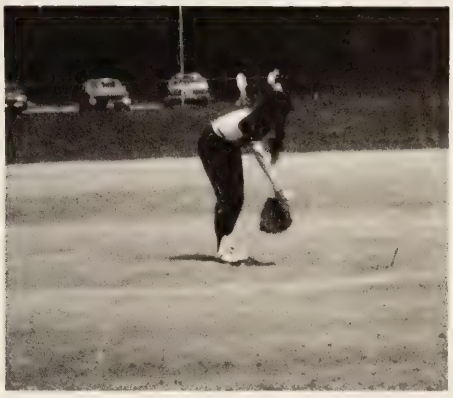
Feelings. The faces say it all for the class of 1984 as they exit the world of Churchland High School.

Final Preparations. Mrs. India Wheeler, senior guidance counselor for the class of 1984, prepares the stadium for the graduates.

Orientation. Members of the class of 1988 listen attentively as Mr. Morgan and Mrs. Taliaferro welcome them to Churchland High School.





Softball. Tina Strickland gives it her all in an early girls' softball game.

Pitching Star. Pitcher Brian Pleasants throws one in against the Great Bridge Wildcats.

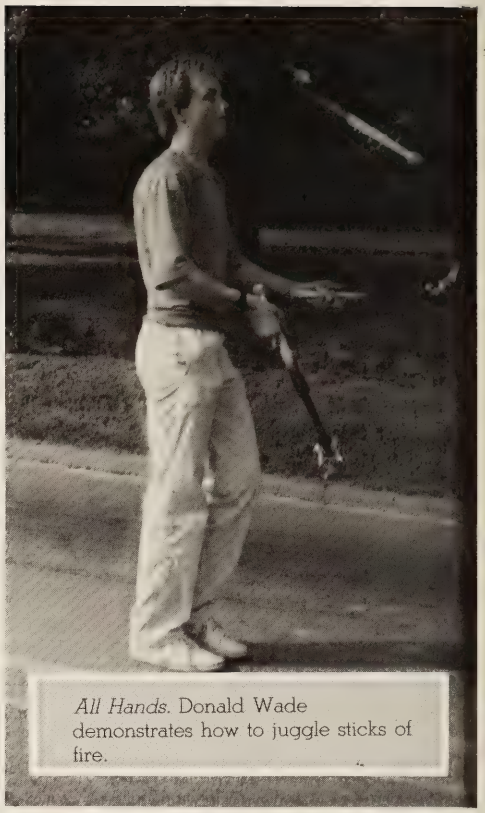
Homecoming 1984

"Almost Paradise"

Togas, poodle skirts, leis, and Hawaiian shirts were all seen during Homecoming Week '84, which centered on the theme "Almost Paradise." Starting the week was Hawaiian Day. Many students wore brightly colored print shirts, leis, and hula skirts. Tuesday was the day students dressed crazy. Students sported multi-colored togas, punk rock outfits, and their clothes inside-out and backwards. Some very crazy boys even dressed as girls for the day. Wednesday was a day to salute the 1950's. Poodle skirts, bobby socks, and jeans were the fashion of the day. Some boys even greased their hair back while others rolled cigarettes in their tee shirt sleeves. Thursday was the traditional Traitor Day when students wore red and black, Manor's colors. On Thursday the Homecoming Court was also presented to the student body during the annual homecoming assembly. Friday was the day spirit could be seen everywhere. Students dressed in orange and black to show school spirit at the morning pep rally. Friday night the Truckers were faced with a tough battle against the Manor Mustangs. The loss of the game, however, did not lessen the excitement of the crowd or the court. During the halftime activities Robyn Twine was named Homecoming Queen and Jackie Weston was named her Maid of Honor. The week concluded with a dance in the gym.



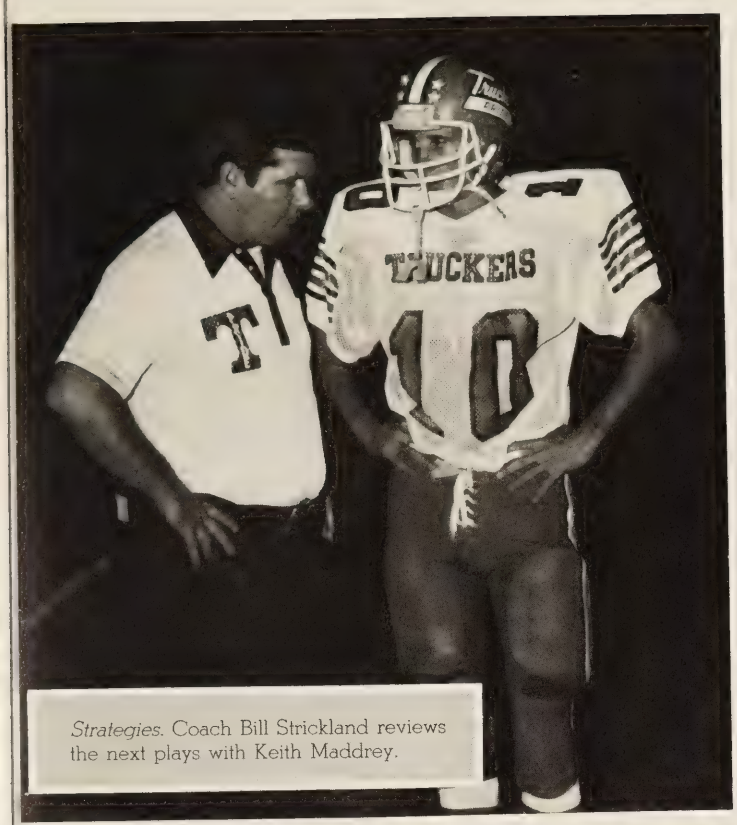
All Hands. Donald Wade demonstrates how to juggle sticks of fire.

At Ease. Homecoming contestants and escorts stand before the crowd.

First Place. The seniors took first place honors with "Winter Wonderland."

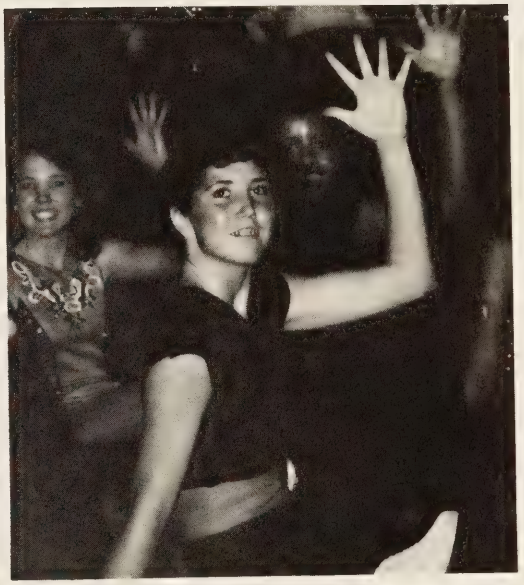
Relaxation. The cheerleaders take time to view the halftime activities.

Royalty. Jackie Weston and Roby Twine make a trip around the field



Strategies. Coach Bill Strickland reviews the next plays with Keith Maddrey.

Parade Time. Thomas Batchelor and Lisa Kaye prepare for the annual homecoming parade.



Flag Squad. Susan Eastman does her best to make the halftime activities a success.

Attentive Fans. Greg Harbour and Michelle Galumbeck are entranced by the action on the field.

Jackie Weston — Maid Of Honor

Robyn Twine Reigns As Queen

At the annual homecoming assembly the 1984-85 Homecoming Court was presented to the student body. Six senior girls were vying for the title of Homecoming Queen while six junior girls were competing for the title of Maid of Honor.

Senior girls nominated to be Homecoming Queen were Julie Andrews, Jennifer Chilton, Danette Daniels, Cherri Porter, Margaret Skrobiszewski, and Robyn Twine. Candidates for the title of Maid of Honor included Bonnie Babb, Bonnie Armentrout, Michelle Martin, Jackie Venters, Jackie Weston, and Amy Young.

After these twelve girls and Sophomore class representative Monique Driedric and Freshmen class representative Amy Mitchell were presented to the student body, students then made their choice for queen and maid of honor.

During the half-time activities of the homecoming game, Tamrah Lilley announced to an anxious crowd that Robyn Twine was the 1984-85 Homecoming Queen and Jackie Weston was her Maid of Honor.

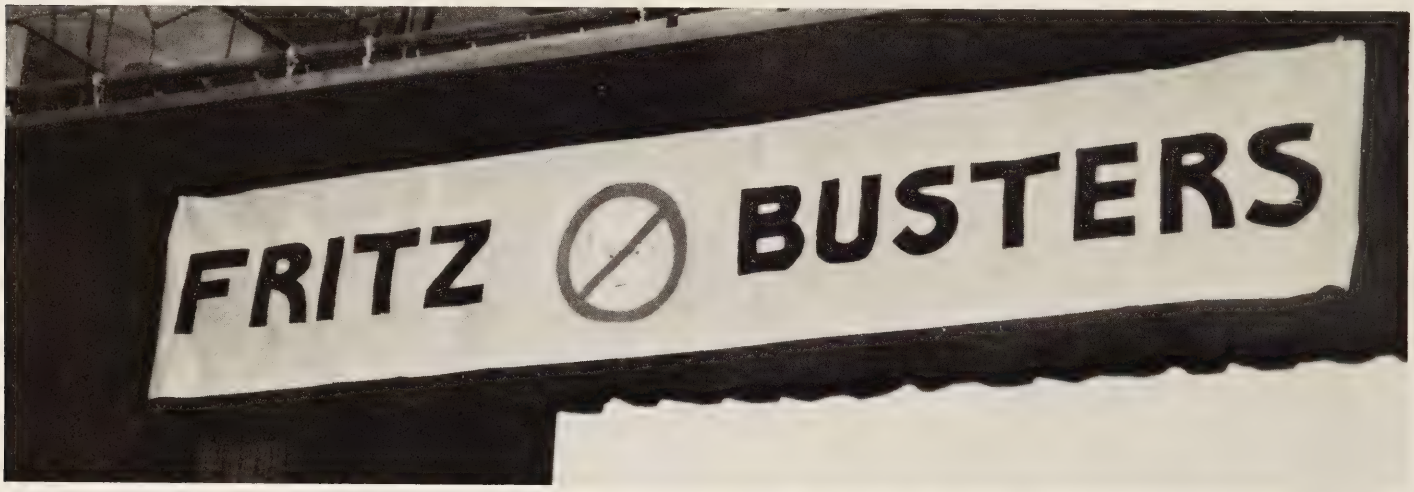
Reagan Wins By A Landslide!

In a mock election Churchland students correctly predicted that Ronald Reagan would defeat Walter Mondale for the Presidency of the United States. The mock election was the culminating event in the government classes' study of the election process. Students analyzed the candidates and the issues in the various races held in 1984. After the formal classroom instruction was over, students prepared two election rally assemblies to help make other students aware of the candidates and the issues. The first assembly, which was prepared by students from Mrs. Sue Yearby's government classes, focused on the commercial aspect of running for office. This assembly, which was complete with commercials, showed the importance of image in running for office in the 1980's. Students from Mrs. Tracy Dussia's and Mrs. Veronica Evans's classes emphasized the issues of the campaigns during the second assembly. For some students the assembly and the study of the electoral process was the first step into accepting the responsibilities that lie before them as adults.

Whether it was the commercialism or the hard facts, both groups made their point — Reagan and the republicans were their choices, as well as the nation's choices, in 1984.



Fritz Busters. In a take-off of the summer's hot movie Ghostbusters, Reagan supporters became Fritz Busters to rid the political arena of presidential candidate Walter "Fritz" Mondale.

Political Assassinations. Gunman Ley Havird attempts to kill the Ninja (alias Craig Ricks) to demonstrate the vulnerability of a candidate as the object of an assassin's target. The skit also analyzed how saying or doing the wrong thing can cause one to commit political suicide.

Is he or isn't he? Terry Hyams, representing Edith Harrison, the democratic candidate for the United States Senate, tries to woe his (her?) audience.

Mondale Rap. Democratic supporters Anthony Hill, Melvin Perry, William Holland, and Anthony Houston rap for Mondale and Ferraro in a skit that was well received by the student body.

Republican Vice-Presidential Candidate. Donald Wade, portraying Vice-President George Bush, tries to get his republican constituents into the swing of things as the unknown Reagan impostor looks on at the crowd.

Hola, Amigas. Foreign exchange students Maria Ibarra (left) and Aida Vilar were a welcome change to the classes and activities of Churchland High School. Much was learned by all during the visit of each student.

Drama Enthusiast. While at Churchland High School, Maria Ibarra was an active member of the drama and choral groups.

Maria Ibarra

All I knew about the United States was what I had seen in the movies of cowboys, country music, Coke, McDonalds, and "Fame." But I knew that wasn't all. It had to be more and I was right. Here I have seen things I didn't expect; a cosmopolitan country of different religions, races, social classes, income levels brought together through patriotism.

I will take back good memories, thousands of stories, warm feelings, and lasting friendships of the people at Churchland High School.

To my friends, teachers, the Drama Club, and everybody who helped me this year — Thank you.

Maria Ibarra

Host Family. Aida Vilar enjoys a moment with Jerry Dickens, a member of her host family.

Aida Vilar

Everything that I thought about the U.S. before I came has been completely different, even though I knew somethings about the country through movies, magazines, and the three AFS students that my family hosted in the last years.

The customs are different. For example, we don't have Thanksgiving, Halloween, or Valentine's Day. School is where I have found more differences. In my country school begins in March and finishes in November. We don't have the opportunity to choose courses because every subject is required. Every day has been a new experience. I will never forget this wonderful year and all the people who have been nice to me, and most of all the love, affection, friendship, and caring that I have discovered in every one of the people who have been interested in me, especially my hosts, the Dickens family. I would love to come here again.

Aida Vilar

Victory. Juniors Bonnie Babb, Kim Burr, and Laura Worrell celebrate the victory.

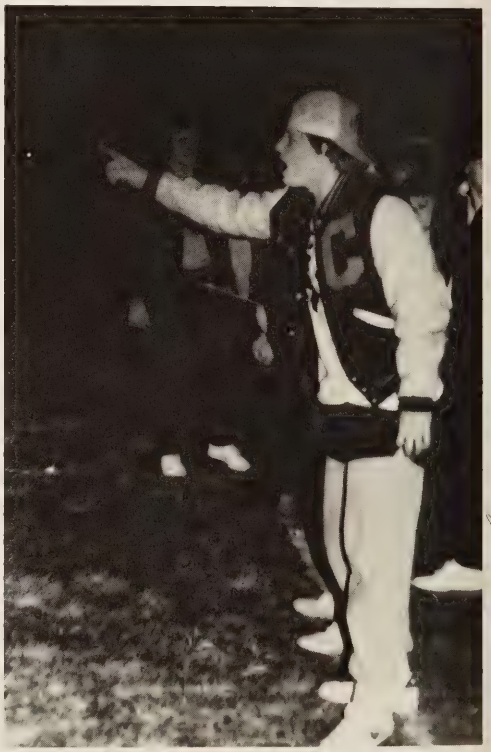
Coach Hyams. Senior coach Terry Hyams directs the next play from the sidelines.

Juniors Victorious In Powder Puff

As the annual powder puff football game rolled around this year, many junior and senior girls looked forward to the chance of competing against one another. However, in the two weeks of practice before the game, most of the girls complained of aches, pains, and missing their daily soap operas. They were engaged in hard hitting, wind sprints, and mastering the crash course in the Truckers' playbook.

Finally, game time came and all were ready. The junior and senior guys donned panty hose and inflatable breasts in cheering their perspective team to victory. The cheerleaders, after working hard on their cheers, provided a comic relief to the fast-paced intensity on the field.

The juniors under coach Ley Havird were well trained and showed great athletic ability. The seniors, however, had a much smaller squad and although they played hard, the juniors emerged victorious. Afterwards, everyone agreed it was not the winning or the losing, it was the fun in participating.



You've Got It. Coach Andy Grider makes sure his team's on the right track.

Boom Bah!! Jerry Dickens shows how cheering should really be done.

Elation. A jubilant junior squad shows they are number one.

Pyramids. Junior cheerleaders give their rendition of the pyramid.

Waterside Performance. Paige Pearce and Donald Wade, as well as other members of the cast of the play, performed at Waterside. Here they are assisted by choral director Mrs. Fae W. Buckley.

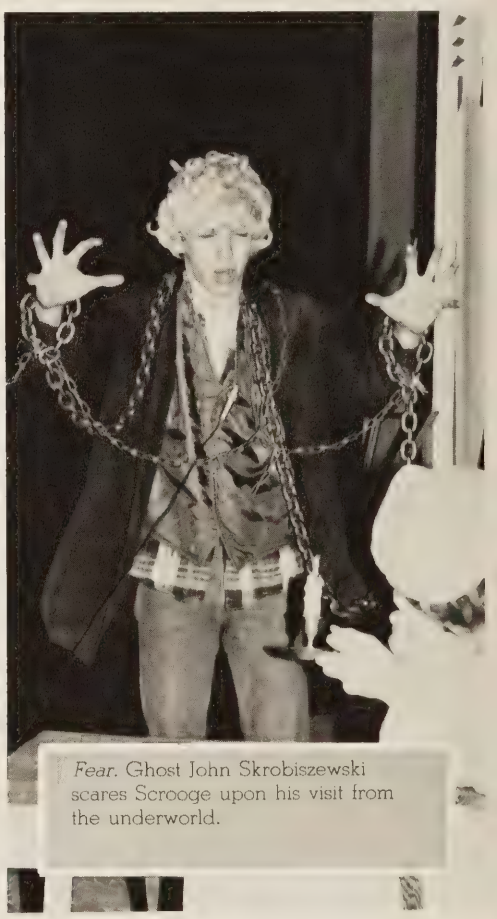
Scrooge's Assistants. Practice makes perfect for Tony Poteat, Mark Tuggle, and James Degaraff, who portrayed Scrooge's assistants in the musical.

Don Wade Heads Cast Of "Scrooge"

The musical Scrooge based on Charles Dickens' A Christmas Carol features, the life of Ebenezer Scrooge, a crusty old miser who learns to appreciate his family and friends after spending Christmas Eve in the company of their spirits. The Churchland High School production, coordinated by the music and drama departments, took place on December 14, 15, and 16.

Ebenezer Scrooge was played by Don Wade, who also designed the set and lighting for the production. The Spirit of Christmas Past was played by Paige Pearce, the Spirit of Christmas Present was performed by Michael Hofler, and the Spirit of Christmas Future was portrayed by Brad Riddick. Newcomer John Skrobiszewski played the role of Marley's Ghost. The entire production was directed by Mrs. Debbie Scott. Choral director Mrs. Fae W. Buckley supervised the chorus's efforts. Directing the band's efforts was Mrs. Mary Gugler.

The preview of Scrooge, presented at Waterside on the main stage on December 5, aired on Channel 3-TV on December 22, 1984.



Fear. Ghost John Skrobiszewski scares Scrooge upon his visit from the underworld.

Marley Returns. In a moving performance at Waterside, acting newcomer John Skrobiszewski brings to life the ghost of Jacob Marley.

Rise and Shine. Scrooge (Don Wade) is rudely awakened by the Ghost of Christmas Present.

Performance Time. "Scrooge" provided singer Andy Grider, who portrayed Scrooge's nephew, a chance to display his singing talents. Onlookers include Tony Poteat, Kim Phelps, and Mike Davis.

Behind the Scenes. Murphy's Mart employee Rhonda Blick rings up a purchase for fellow employee and Churchland High student Jon Cobb.

Fashion Student. Irwin's Pharmacy employee Shelly Burns assists a customer with a prescription.

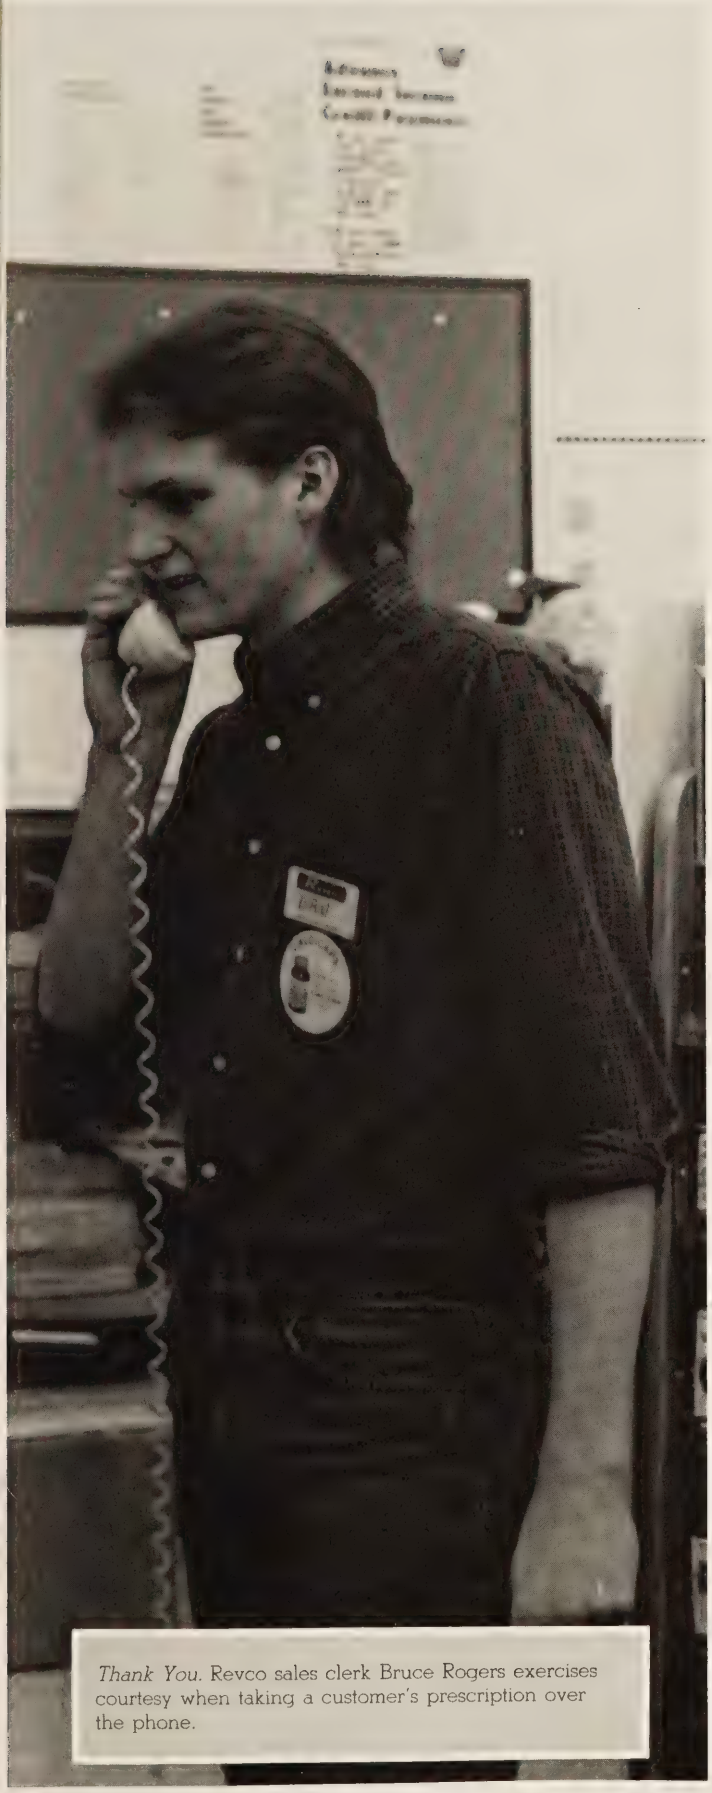
Sales Pitch. Stevie White of Murphy's does his best to sell the customer this model gun.

Working 9 To 5
(Or At Least 3-10)

Students who are interested in careers in marketing and retailing take Marketing so that they can have on-the-job training coordinated with the formal classroom instruction. The student has a better understanding of his duties on the job and why such duties are important to the particular firm for which they work if employed through the Marketing program.

Interest in any of the following careers indicates that Marketing has something to offer the student — advertising, human relations, communications, display, merchandising, management, product service and technology, store operations, and selling.

As the program presently stands, the student must complete a minimum of 540 hours on the job to receive credit for his efforts. The student must also adhere to policies set forth by the school, the marketing coordinator, and the employer. Through their efforts, the students get an early look at life in the working world while earning credit for graduation and while gaining experience and money toward the future.



Thank You. Revco sales clerk Bruce Rogers exercises courtesy when taking a customer's prescription over the phone.

Front check out, please! Lara Wilfong calls additional help to the front counter at Murphy's Mart.

There (S)he Is . . .

Cinderfella

For the first time in the history of Churchland High School, the guys wore more makeup and looked much sexier than the girls. No, it wasn't a Boy George look alike contest. It was the First Annual Cinderfella Pageant sponsored by the Churchland Villagers.

The pageant consisted of nearly thirty guys (?) competing on the basis of beauty, sex appeal, personality, and talent. The talent consisted of dancing, singing, and vulgar expressions. Along with the Mistress of Ceremonies — Major Carl Kusky — the crew on stage did, however, look more like a Boy George look alike contest than a beauty pageant.

Nevertheless, everyone seemed to have a great time, including the audience who occassionally yelled onstage and asked for phone numbers. The Cinderfella Pageant was a great success and will most likely continue to be a success in years to come.

Andy Grider garnered the honor of being Churchland's first Cinderfella. First runner-up was a very "convincing" Brad Riddick. A rather "haunting" Jonathan Benn was a second runner-up.

A good job guys!?

Toe Shoes. Cary House rivals the likes of Alexander Gudonov in his talent competition.

Mistress of Ceremonies. A most flattering Major Carl Kusky, here donned in hot pants, served as the Mistress of Ceremonies.

Oh, Please! Mike Hofler, beautifully attired in a blue evening gown, offers his hand to his escort.

Hello Out There. Don Wade, looking a lot like Dee Snider of Twisted Sister, is escorted by Beth Scott.

My Hair's a Mess. Kevin Kellam can't quite get his hair straight during his talent competition.

Contestant 25. Stephen Gay belts a song.

Mob the Queen. As in every "beauty" pageant, the queen is mobbed after her victory.

Madonna. Madonna impersonator Craig Ricks tries to sing a song.

Who am I? Looking like a combination of Tina Turner and Little Richard was Stevie White.

First Runner-Up. Brad Riddick moves to the beat.

Second Runner-Up. Jonathan Benn checks out his nearest competition.

With A Little Help From My Friends!

Oath of Friendship

SHANG YA!
I want to be your friend
For ever and ever without break or decay.
When the hills are all flat
And the rivers are all dry,
When it lightens and thunders in winter,
When it rains and snows in summer,
When Heaven and Earth migle —
Not till then will part from you.

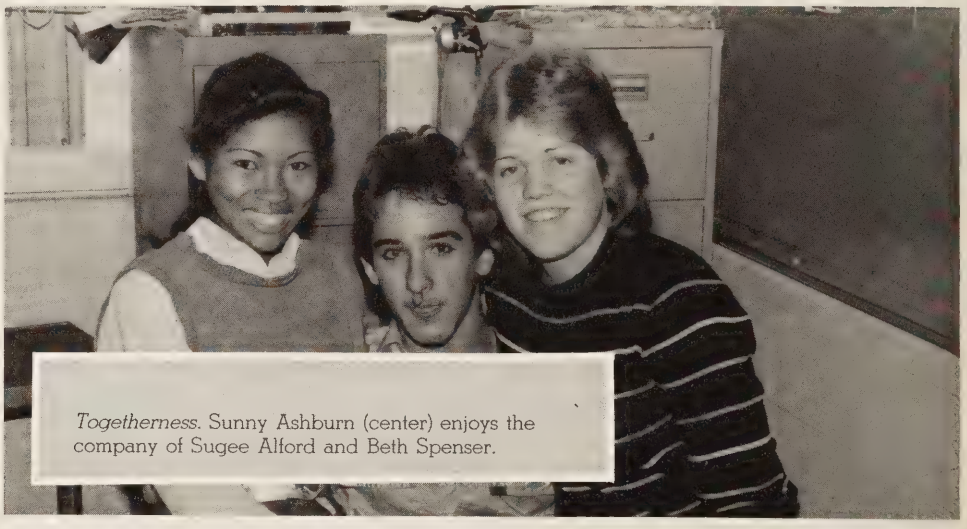
The books will disappear. The fashions and the fads will change. We will grow older and wiser. However, the memories of Churchland High School and the friendships we have made will live on. The classroom antics. The parties. The games. Lunchtime chats. Meetings. Dates. The movies. The people we have met and the times we have shared with these people have made the years at Churchland High School a time to remember. Each of us has grown from the experiences. We have cried. We have laughed. We have cheered each other on to victory. We have seen defeat. But most of all, we have shared the best time of our lives with the people who have made each day a little brighter — our friends.

Yes, we have gotten by with a little help from our friends.

Lunchtime Entertainment. Adrian Evins entertains Lisa Gillard and Tonya Atkins with her best Mae West imitation.



Togetherness. Sunny Ashburn (center) enjoys the company of Sugee Alford and Beth Spenser.

Feed Me. Alison Mathias is assisted in eating her lunch.

Waterside Viewing. Amy Adams, Shelly Burns, and Jonathan Benn enjoy the preview performance of Scrooge at Waterside.

Homecoming. Clowning around together at homecoming are Jessica Mann, Tammy Goldsmith, and Amy Young.

Memories. Tina Strickland and Dan Nero share a moment together in Mr. Fanny's English 12 class.

Cake Cutting. Bride and groom Jeanne Betts and Bland Burkhardt prepare to cut their wedding cake.

Wedding Party. Jerry Dickens, an usher, and Amee Baker, a bridesmaid, make their way to the wedding receptions.

"WITH THIS RING I THEE WED . . ."

"I now pronounce you husband and wife."

These were the words of the Reverend Jonathan Benn as he presided over the mock weddings of Jeanne Betts and Bland Burkhardt and Jennifer Chilton and Brian Cutchins. The weddings were the culminating project in the Family Living classes' study of marriage and weddings. Family Living, taught by Mrs. Cydney Cavender, is a class for seniors who want to better prepare themselves for life beyond high school.

To make the weddings as realistic as possible, students dressed in tuxedos, long dresses and formal attire. Tina Strickland served as the wedding director as Kathy Pfeiffer, the pianist, and Amy Adams, the vocalist, provided the musical interludes for the ceremony. The ceremonies concluded with a reception honoring the wedding parties in the cafeteria.

More Cake. Brian Cutchins is assisted by bride Jennifer Chilton in the cutting of their wedding cake.

Practice. Practice. Cross country runner Alan Pearce realizes the importance of consistent training in cross country.

ALAN PEARCE — RUNNING STAR

Running the 600 yard dash in junior high school and the push of a friend are what got junior Alan Pearce interested in joining the cross country team, Alan, having run for three years, credits his success to consistent training because "if you don't (train consistently), you will lose all that you have worked for." Alan's program here at CHS includes running long distances of six to ten miles. He recalls once running back and forth over the West Norfolk Bridge six to ten times to prepare for some of the steep runs at the regional meets. In addition to cross country running, Pearce enjoys soccer and bike racing. Next year he hopes to win the city meet and place high in the district and regionals. Pearce also notes the importance of leadership in competitive sports when he says, "If it were not for the leadership of John Lewis and Merrill Teemant, the team would not be what it is today."

Weighted Grades A First

For the first time students enrolled in certain accelerated classes received weighted grades for their efforts. The courses receiving weighted grades this year included English 9 Honors, Math Analysis, Biology II, Physics, Latin III, IV, V, French III, IV, and Spanish III, IV. The weighted scale used in calculating grade point averages was A=5, B=4, C=3, D=4, and F=0. Normally an A is worth only four points on the West Point scale.

In addition to these courses, students who were enrolled in English 10X, English 11X, and English 12X — Honors and who signed work contracts to do extra work also received weighted grades. Students in these courses received weighted grades because students in the experimental English 10 Honors program at Manor High School and the students in the English 12 Honors program here at Churchland High were carrying an extra work load without receiving the advantage of weighted grades for their work. Next year courses in English 10 Honors, 11 Honors, and 12 Honors should be offered to all students at Portsmouth's five high schools.

Relief For Boredom

What can one do to end the feeling of boredom on a Friday night? Why not

— watch television
— cruise the roads
— go to the movies
— take out a date
— visit friends
— party with friends
— get into a little mischief with toilet paper
— dance the night away
— eat out at Pizza Hut or Godfather's
— take in a football or basketball game
— drink the night away
— phone a friend or two or three
— visit the ski resorts
— explore the malls
— bug a teacher
— sleep

If all else fails, one can always study. God forbid that though on a Friday night.

Rolling right along. Some enthusiastic juniors prepare to have a little fun.

Victory. CHS students go wild after a Churchland football victory.

Changes In The Classroom

"Suddenly nothing is the same." It's an old expression which took on real meaning this year at Churchland High School.

Students attended school 181 days, not 180 as had been the case in the past. Fifteen minutes was added to the school day. A state mandate now instructed schools to offer special 20 and 22 credit diplomas for students carrying the designated course loads which included additional years of math, science and foreign language. The Portsmouth School Board became an innovator of sorts when it set down a policy requiring future graduates to successfully complete a year of algebra to be eligible for graduation.

Within Churchland High School itself, many changes were seen. Numerous new faces were seen instructing classes this year. The interest in Spanish and business education classes was so great that a part-time Spanish teacher and a full-time business teacher were added to the faculty. Increased emphasis was also placed on the student wanting and needing help through the modified resource classroom, which was coordinated by newcomer Ms. Ellen Strassle and her aide Mrs. June Church. The elective Journalism was no longer offered, forcing the production of the newspaper to become an outside activity, not a part of a class. Honors courses and weighted grades also became prevelant at Churchland.

Yes, suddenly nothing is the same — and probably never will be!

Treasurer — Mike Mara

SCA Officers. Bottom to top — Mike Mara, Tamrah Lilley, Merrill Teemant, Judd Mendelson

Once again the Churchland High SCA continued to serve the school and the community. To raise money for its activities the SCA sponsored two dances, conducted the computer dating service from February 11-15, and sold flowers at homecoming. With the funds raised the SCA was able to coordinate a food drive, to make a contribution to the Christmas Seal — Virginia Lung Association fund, and to salute the staff and faculty during "Teacher Appreciation Week". To conclude the year's activities, members presented selected seniors with scholarships and provided bonds to academically inclined students at the annual awards assembly.

To encourage students leadership skills, the CHS SCA actively participated in the city-wide SCA, the VASC (Virginia Association of Student Councils, and the NASC National Association of Student Councils). During the summer of 1984 SCA members Dora McGee and Frankie Edmondson attended the summer leadership conference for SCA members.

The year's activities concluded with the induction of new officers on May 8, 1985.

Clubs Focus On Writing

Thanks to Mrs. Debbie Scott and Mrs. Barbara King the phrase "writing across the curriculum" became a meaningful expression to students in the Churchland zone schools. Here at Churchland High students devoted their activity periods, Saturdays, and after school hours to improve their writing and communication skills through their experiences in the Creative Writing Club, The Trucker Topics, and The 1985 Trucker.

Held during activity B in room 223, the Creative Writing Club met to write creatively on some fairly broad subject — usually in poetic form. The members spent three-fourths of their meeting time writing and one-fourth reading the writings and responding to them. The nice, friendly atmosphere provided by sponsor Mrs. Debbie Scott allowed students to respond in a positive way where no one was particularly critical. The goal of the twenty member club was to publish in May a literary magazine of works written by club members.

For the first time in six years the school's newspaper was not published and produced in a journalism class. New sponsor Ms. Ellen Strassle had to rely on morning meetings and late afternoon work sessions to produce the four issues for the year. Because Ms. Strassle did not have a class or grades to entice students to work on the paper, the job of advisor was made more difficult. Ms. Strassle, however, commended this relatively inexperienced staff on their ideas.

Three years — three advisors. For the third time in three years a new advisor was at the helm of the yearbook. The job of sponsoring the yearbook returned to the English department via new English teacher Marvin Fanny. Through Tuesday afternoon work sessions, Activity B meetings, and an occasional Saturday, staff members, directed by two-time Editor-in-Chief Cathy McCoy, worked hard to meet deadlines and to produce a yearbook that continuously reflected the theme "Stepping Out."

Clubs Expand On Outside Hobbies

Activity periods provided students interested in backgammon, chess and computer sciences a chance to expand on their knowledge and skills.

Approximately thirty members of the Backgammon Club met twice a month in room 207 during the activity periods to compete against one another in backgammon and to improve their backgammon skills. The club was sponsored by Spanish teacher Mr. Joseph Yancey.

While Mr. Yancey sponsored the Backgammon Club, chemistry teacher Mr. Walter McDonald helped Chess Club members improve their chess skills through chess tournaments and matches.

Fortran. Pascal. Cobalt. These were just a few terms that were introduced to Computer Club members by sponsor Mrs. Mary Gugler. Mrs. Gugler, who coordinated the faculty in-services in computer sciences, taught students how to operate the computers available to them in the library and how to write flow charts for selected programs.

The 1984-1985 school year was a busy one for the Churchland chapter of DECA. In September members went to Busch Gardens and planned a return visit for the spring of 1985. October marked the installment of new officers and the induction of new members. DECA officers also attended an officer training conference at Old Dominion University in October. In November and December DECA donated food to Oasis for Thanksgiving and Christmas. A $100.00 contribution to the Joy Fund and a pizza party also highlighted December.

Competitions and conferences were also a big part of DECA. All DECA members attended the Fourth Annual Career Fair for Portsmouth's Marketing Student. The fair, sponsored by the Marketing and DE Advisory Council, was held during November at Manor High School. Competitions and conferences were a big part of 1985. The District Leadership Conference was held on February 13, 1985, the State Leadership Conference was held in Roanoke, Virginia from March 13-15, and the National Career Development forum was held in San Francisco, California from May 1-6. This year's competitors worked hard to match the efforts of 1984 state competition participants Lisa Waters, Lisa Rudko, Tim Carter, Lisa Jones, Brad Claywell, Kim Mason, and Pam Boynton. David Marinar, a fourth-place winner at the state level of the Food Marketing-Master Employee Level Division, attended the National Conference held during May, 1984, in Kansas City, Missouri.

DECA was sponsored by Ms. Nancy W. Jones and Ms. Diane Brown, who also taught the distributive education courses here at Churchland High School.

The Churchland-Western Branch Chapter of American Field Services (AFS) welcomed two foreign exchange students to Churchland High School — Maria Ibarra and Aida Vilar, The chapter, which is recognized locally, statewide, and nationally, also participated in a short term exchange with the AFS chapter in Burlington, Vermont, where students enjoyed skiing and visited . Montreal. Between Wednesday, April 17, 1985, and Sunday, April 21, 1985, students from Vermont were entertained by the Churchland chapter. To raise money for these cultural exchange programs, the local AFS chapter held a sub sale on Februrary 23rd at Green Acres Presbyterian Church. The club also enjoyed a pot luck dinner on February 7th at the local Resurrection Church. The group also held picnics to send off foreign exchanges and to welcome new students to the United States. This area served as the bus stop for regional AFS students returning to their native land.

The Pierette Club sponsored by Mrs. Judith Glisson also functioned as a service group at Churchland. Headed by president Cherri Porter, the group organized a Thanksgiving food basket and made contributions to the Easter Seal fund and to the Statue of Liberty fund. Induction of new officers and members was held on May 27, 1985.

Tidewater Challenge Returns

Once again Churchland High School, as well as Portsmouth's other high schools, sponsored a team to compete on the Tidewater Challenge show sponsored by WHRO — Channel 15. Because of the large number of schools interested in participating, the field of fifty-two teams was narrowed to thirty-two via a written test given at Old Dominion University on September 8, 1984. Churchland, thanks to the coaching and hard work of Mrs. Barbara King, survived the elimination round. CHS was the only Portsmouth team to survive the elimination and to appear on the program. The team's television appearance was against Southhampton High School and was aired on January 25, 1985. Despite the loss, team members continued to work for next year's program.

To help improve the students' ability to answer trivia questions, Mrs. King also sponsored the Tidewater Challenge Club, which met during activity B and on Thursdays after school. The purpose of the club was to provide a period to practice answering trivia questions.

At the 1984 Homecoming Assembly twenty members, selected on the basis of scholastic ability and leadership, were pinned Marshals. Selected as Chief Marshal was Gerald Brunk. The Marshals, sponsored by Mr. William Gatling, ushered at plays and concerts and assisted at graduation ceremonies.

An increased emphasis on service was at the heart of the National Honor Society. Students conducted four one-hour exam tutorial sessions during January. All members were also required to do four hours of school or community service. The National Honor Society, as a group, contributed $50 to the Joy Fund and provided scholarships for selected seniors at the end of the year.

In addition to practices and band camps, the Marching Truckers participated in numerous other activities. Included on this year's agenda were the Memorial Day Parade, the Coral Sea departure, the Azalea Day Parade, Field Day at the Special Olympics, the District Festival for concert bands, graduation activities, and a marching performance in Orlando, Florida, during spring break.

Spanish Week, held from February 19-22, 1985, was the highlight of the Spanish Club. The week's activities were coordinated by Spanish teachers Ms. Iris Cooper, Mr. Joseph Yancey, and Mrs. Lucille Hernandez. The club and the Spanish classes welcomed talks from foreign exchange students Maria Ibarra and Aida Vilar. Smith Trent attended the Virginia Tech Foreign Language Camp in August 1984 on a Spanish Club scholarship.

Ms. Cooper and Mr. Yancey, as well as new Spanish teacher Ms. Hernandez, sponsored a Spanish Honor Society — La Sociedad Honoraria Hispania. Inductees in the group must have a 3.5 average in Spanish over at least three semesters. New members were recognized at the year-end awards assembly.

Cultural activities also dominated the French Club. Slide presentations, Fete de Noel in December, and a banquet in April encompassed the year. The French Club is sponsored by Mr. William Gatling.

FBLA members sponsored an open house in the business department in February, coordinated FBLA Week (February 10-16), and attended the spring regional conference in March and the state leadership conference in April.

Students enrolled in the COE (Cooperative Office Education) program held a breakfast in October, 1984, and a COE Employer/Employee Luncheon at Holiday Inn on May 4, 1985.

New this year to Churchland High was the Debate Team. Organized by Mrs. Jean Snow, the Debate Team practiced during both activity periods and after schools to perfect their skills. The team participated in two local tournaments — one on February 2, 1985 in Hampton and another at Western Branch High School on March 9, 1985. Regional tournament action took place on April 20, 1985, at Great Bridge High School. Regional winners advanced to the state competitions held from April 26-27, 1985 at the University of Virginia.

Once again Mrs. Mattie Poole and Mr. Oliver Paige sponsored the Spelling Bee Club. Members reviewed rules for spelling "problem" words through oral and written spelling quizzes, word search activities, and spelling challenges. Winners of the activities were announced at the school's awards assembly.

Mrs. Geneva Gray, sponsor of the Science Club, helped to coordinate the activities for the Science Club. Included in the year's work were a dance on February 22, 1985, a candy sale from February 13-28, 1985, and a spring trip in April.

Chorus Wins Many Honors

Individual members of the CHS Choral Department garnered many hours. Fourteen students were selected to Who's Who in Music while fifteen members qualified for regional chorus. Senior Paige Pearce represented CHS in the Virginia Honors Choir. CHS also sent representatives to the All-Virginia Chorus. As a group, the Villagers competed in a music festival in New York City in April. The mixed chorus, along with the Villagers, entered the yearly music festival competition held at Kings Dominion in May.

"Night Of One Acts" A Success

"The Express Line," "Bar and Ger," and "Caste," an original play by dramatics club officers, highlighted the drama department's "Night of One Acts" held November 2-3. The department's yearly musical, presented in coordination with the music department, "Scrooge" was performed December 14-16. "Angel Street" performed March 8-9 and another spring production done in May marked the community dramatic performances for early 1985. The school's entry in the Virginia High School League Dramatics contest "The Actor's Nightmare" was presented on February 27.

In addition to stage performances of their own, dramatics club members went as a group to see "Marilyn" at the Tidewater Dinner Theatre in October. Former CHS thespians Mark Lauer and Michael Joyner were in the show, as well as current club officer Jill Bari Steinberg. In February the group held a pot luck dinner and talent show for drama students' parents and invited guests. An induction of members and officers and an awards ceremony at Temple Sinai in May concluded the year's activities.

To inform members of upcoming events, the club published a drama newsletter called "Star Prompter." The six issues — three each semester — helped to boost club membership and interest in drama.

CHS dramatists also garnered their fair share of honors during the year. Beth Scott and Brad Riddick were named to the Virginia "All-Star Cast" by the Virginia Theater Conference. The conference also awarded "Caste" a Judges' Special Award for Creative Script Collaboration and Execution. Members of the cast of "Bar and Ger" attended the State Thespian Conference and were invited to represent the state of Virginia at the International Thespian Society's National Conference in June 1985. Students who had achieved honor thespian status included Paige Pearce, Don Wade, Susan Duke, and Jill Bari Steinberg. Mrs. Debbie Scott, who sponsored the Dramatics Club, noted that CHS had approximately 20 members in Thespian Troupe #598. The troupe is an honorary organization for students who have demonstrated an interest in theatre by participation in plays, both on stage and off stage. The group is part of the International Thespian Society.

As it has been in the past few years, the Spirit Club was one of the largest clubs in the school. Established to promote school spirit and to recognize athletes, the Spirit Club planned a post-Valentine's Day dance on February 16, 1985, to raise funds for a spring trip and to furnish the gymnasium with school pennants. The club also sponsored Spring Sports Week, a tribute to athletes who participated in the spring sports.

The Industrial Arts Club, sponsored by the new industrial arts teachers John Sykes and William Griswold, conducted numerous sales campaigns to raise money for supplies in the department.

The Marine Corps Junior Officer Training Corps provides Churchland High School students with the physical and mental training necessary for careers in the Armed Services. ROTC members also acquire leadership, communication, and public relation skills required in all fields of the working world.

The ROTC members participated in many school related activities. Among these were marching in the Homecoming parade and undergoing physical endurance tests in the spring. Cheerleaders Spark Spirit

Cheerleaders spend about a week and a half in April to prepare for tryouts for the next school year. After much practice and effort, fifteen cheerleaders and two alternates are chosen. After becoming a cheerleader, one spends the month of August practicing for the upcoming football season. Cheerleaders support not only the football games but also the basketball and wrestling teams. In any case, they do their best to cheer the teams on to victory.

Four-year cheering veteran Danette Daniels is the captain of the varsity squad. The co-captains are Julie Andrews and Robyn Twine. Sponsoring the varsity cheerleaders this year is Mrs. Jerry Pleasants. Once again Mrs. Elizabeth Duke coordinated the activities for the junior varsity cheerleaders. Working closely with Mrs. Duke were captain Deanna Wynne and co-captains Lisa Morgan and Suzanne Kline.

Up, Up, and Away. Kim Hasty is assisted by fellow cheerleaders in a routine.

Golfers Go Undefeated In Regular Season

A perfect 12-0 record capped the regular season for Churchland's Golf team. Two victories in each of the team's six September meets enabled the team to capture first place in the district. The team also went on to capture first place in the Southeastern District Tournament. In regional action the team finished in fifth place.

Bland Burkhardt demonstrated his leadership qualities by playing the end of the season with excellence. Jim Pittman and Brian Pleasants, both sophomores, moved up into higher positions which they earned from outstanding play throughout the entire season. After starting off slowly, Keath Reynolds made an effective and contributable comeback, which showed the golf team his outstanding capabilities. David Frye made a strong contribution along with newcomer Boyd Griffin. Churchland had one of the strongest squads of alternates, which included Patrick Holyfield, Gary James, Jessica Mann, and Jack Tynch. With many of these players returning, the golf team should be in contention with the best again next year.

The team was coached once again this year by Sgt. Major Bill G. Tate, who provided the knowledge that led to the victorious season.

Churchland Sports Indoor Track For First Time

The 1984-85 edition of the Churchland Truckers Track team sported a new look. For the first time ever, the Truckers took to the track indoors in order to get a jump on the outdoor season. The Trucker Track and Field team promised to have a good season for several reasons. Last year's team was comprised mainly of freshmen and sophomores who were competing for the first time. Very few athletes were lost to graduation or academic ineligibility, and with many experienced returnees this year, the Truckers anticipate great things.

Last year's boys' track team performed well as they went through a transistional phase. Their dual meet record was 1-3. This year's top returnees included Kenny Britt — sprinter/hurdler, Everett Faulks — shot/discus, Thomas Williams — sprinter/jumper, George Stills — sprinter, Scott Etheridge — distance runner, Anthony Houston — middle distance, Ronald Rowsey — middle distance, Guy Hale — decatholon, and Stephen McCoy — sprinter.

Coaching the indoor and outdoor track teams at Churchland High School are Mrs. Lucy Lassiter and Mr. Calvin Lawrence.

85-79 Victory Over Great Bridge Sets Record

According to gymnastics' coach Joe Bystrom, this year's gymnastics team was the most talented group of young ladies ever assembled on a Churchland High School gymnastics team. For the first time in Churchland gymnastics' history, the team scored more than 80 points in a meet. The victory and record score came in an 85-79 Churchland win over Great Bridge.

Jeanette Keffer and Kelley Heise, two talented freshmen with previous gymnastics experience, greatly aided the efforts of the team. Leading point scorer this year was Leigh Ann Ridenour. Serving as captains this year were Bonnie Armentrout, Kim Heise, and Katherine Mayo. Other team members included Stephanie Meagher, Amy Row, Suzanne Kline, and Nellie van den Dungen. With only two seniors graduating, Stefanie Campbell and Kim Heise, the outlook looks bright for next year's team. The team hopes to do well at the district competition with a few girls hopefully going to the regionals.

The gymnasts are really flying high this year at Churchland High School.

Girls' Tennis Has 5-5 Season Despite Injuries

The 1984-1985 Girls' Tennis team completed the season with a 5-5 record. Coach Steve Liles had hoped for a 6-4 record. Coach Liles attributed the record to illnesses and injuries. The illnesses early in the season resulted in members missing many practices. These missed practices and the injuries incurred during the season, according to Liles, hurt the team near the end of the season and resulted in some mediocre performances at the district tournament.

For the first time a district girls' tennis team was selected. Churchland's own Pam Hunt was honored with a selection to this Southeastern District Tennis team. Pam Hunt was also the outstanding player on this year's team. Fine performances were also put in by other team members Jacky Sher, Gee Kim, Stacey Murphy, LeAnn Horton, Sarah Ossman, Anne St. George, and Elizabeth Wiggins.

Off and Running. Teams from the city's five high schools — Manor, Cradock, Wilson, Norcom, and Churchland, begin the long run to the finish line.

Pearce Leads Cross Country

This fall Churchland fielded its best cross country team in several years. This year there were nine boys on the team. This year's surprise runner was freshman Ben Hester. In the next few years he could become Churchland's fastest runner. Our best runner this year, however, was Alan Pearce. He came in second in the city meet. His fastest time was in the low 17 minutes, an excellent time for the 3.1 mile course. Churchland had a banner year, easily capturing the city meet and placing a close second in the district. Our team was also honored to participate in the regional meet held in Newport News. Churchland's mainstays which helped win the majority of races were Alan Pearce, Ben Hester, Tony Turley, Chris Terry, and DeShawn Woods. Merrill Teemant was hindered throughout the season with knee injuries in addition to surgery on his foot. This year promised to be Merrill's best before the injuries plagued him. The major disappointment throughout the year was the lack of spectators. This was one of the winningest boys' teams of any Churchland sport in several years, yet lacked the support of the students. Next year team members hope that students will come out and support the future district champs.

Close call. Junior Alan Pearce narrowly loses out to Wilson's Willie Hart at the wire.

Stretching. Merrill Teemant, Tony Turley, and John Lewis stretch out before a cross country meet.

Ready to Go. The team stands ready to go for the run.

Varsity Scoreboard

Churchland 9
Oscar Smith 15
Coach Strickland felt that the Truckers could've beaten the Tigers, but one costly penalty — roughing the quarterback — gave Oscar Smith the ball and a chance to score. Tony Edwards ran 55 yards for a touchdown and Bert Thompson added a field goal.

Churchland 18
Woodrow Wilson 20
Tony Edwards had an 89 yard kick-off return. Again a breakdown in the defense in a punting situation gave Wilson a touchdown. A fumble again gave them the ball for the winning touchdown. Sam Thomas caught a 32 yard pass from quarterback Keith Maddrey. Edwards again scored with a 2 yard run. Churchland later won the game on a forefeit from the Presidents.

Churchland 10
Western Branch 20
Bert Thompson kicked a 26 yard field goal. Sam Thomas scored the touchdown. Thomas Williams rushed for 106 yards. Again we gave Western Branch good field position on five occasions.

Churchland 21
Deep Creek 12
Tony Edwards scored 2 touchdowns. Keith Maddrey scored on a 1 yard rush. Bert Thompson kicked the extra point. The defense did a great job stopping Deep Creek. Terry Hyams blocked a field goal attempt. The game ended a 10 game losing streak. It was a long awaited victory.

Churchland 0
Manor 15
Coach Bill Strickland believes that this was the worst game the Truckers played all year. He also noted that the officials seemed to favor the Mustangs.

Churchland 33
Cradock 14
This was the Truckers best game of the year. Offensively the Truckers dominated the game. Defensively the Truckers shutdown the famed Cradock wishbone. Jeff Hale gained 150 yards rushing and scored 3 touchdowns.

Churchland 8
Norcom 0
The offense gained 210 yards rushing against one of the area's leading ground defenses. Jeff Hale again rushed for over 100 yards. Edwards ran a 16 yarder for the winning touchdown. A spoiled homecoming for Norcom.

Churchland 0
Indian River 20
The Trucker offense rushed for 177 yards against the area's leading defense, but failed to capitalize on three scoring opportunities.

Churchland 21
Great Bridge 28
The Truckers failed to stop the passing attack of the highly regarded Wildcats. The Truckers were losing 21-14 at halftime. The Truckers tied the score with 1:30 left in the 3rd quarter. The Truckers couldn't contain the Wildcats offense, succumbing to the Wildcats at the end of the game.

Churchland 28
Western Branch 14
The Truckers beat the Bruins by the biggest margin ever between the two schools. This was the second meeting of the year, and the Truckers turned the game around. Jeff Hale broke a career goal of 1,000 yards.

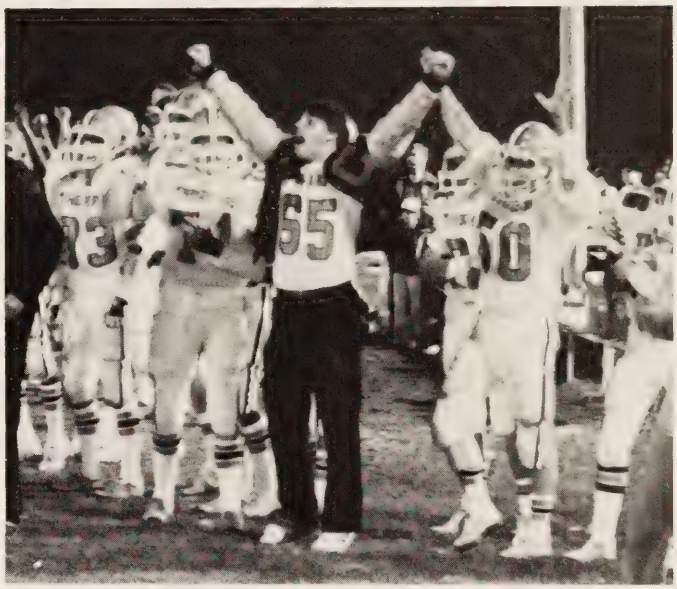
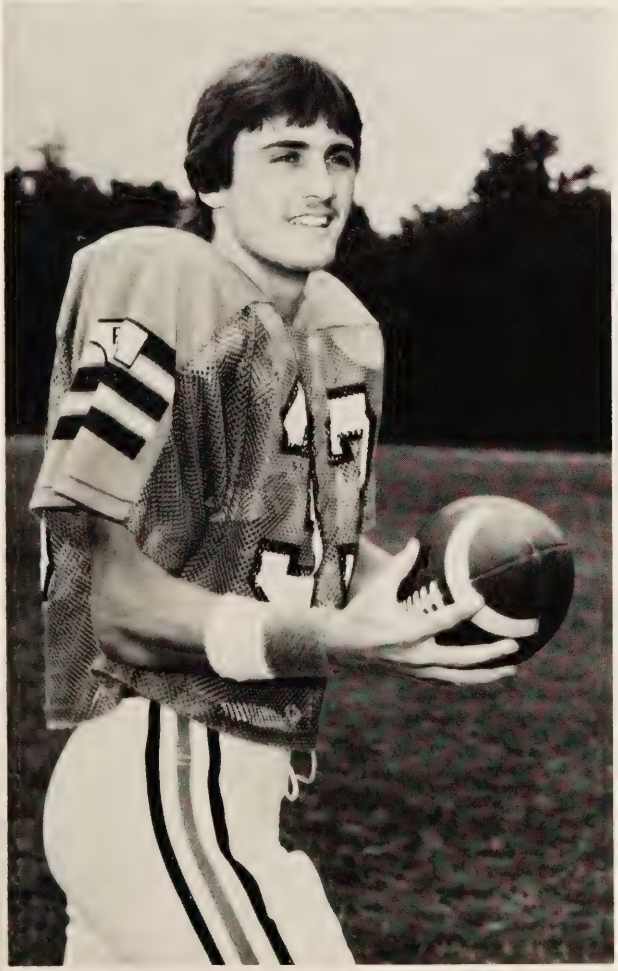
Sideline Support. Despite being sidelined with a leg and foot injury for much of the season, tri-captain Andy Grider gave everything he had to support his Trucker teammates.





Coaching Staff. Coaching the 1984-85 Truckers were Calvin Larence, Carl Rhodes, William Strickland, Ron Lawson, and William Griswold.

Leading Receiver. The team's leading receiver for the season was Daniel E. Nero.

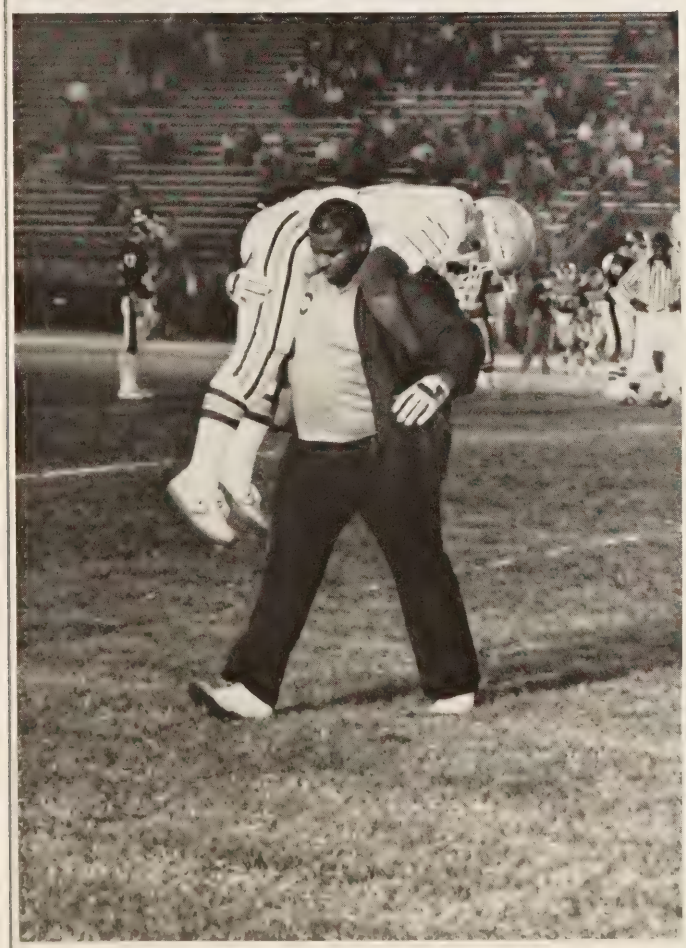
Varsity Players Garner Honors

Churchland was well represented on the local honorary football squads. A total of ten players were selected to the All-Portsmouth Team. On the first team were Everett Faulks, Robert Stanley, Jeff Hale, Anthony Edwards, Brian Maupin, and Joe Holt. Second team members included Daniel Nero, Mark Baule, Terry Hyams, and Samuel Thomas. Team member Andy Grider received an honorary place on the team.

Ten players were also selected to the All-Southeastern District team. First team choices were Everett Faulks, Robert Stanley, Anthony Edwards, Jeff Hale, Brian Maupin, and Joe Holt. Daniel Nero, Mark Baule, Terry Hyams, and Samuel Thomas represented the second team. The players on the team were chosen by all of the coaches in the Southeastern District.

Robert Stanley was the only Churchland Trucker to make the All-Tidewater Team.

The team record may not have reflected a winning season of glory and fanfare; however, individual performances certainly did shine through in the spotlight.



Together We Stand. The team ritualistically showed their spirit from the sidelines during the initial kick-off.

Bobo to the Rescue. Bobo Ricks carries an injured Jake Council off the field.

Warm Up. Senior Brant Cox warms up for the game with Western Branch.

Game Time. Finding another Trucker was a tough job for Brant Cox in the Western Branch game.

Cox, James, And Thomas Lead Squad

The boys' varsity basketball team did much better than anyone expected this year. The team was led by basically the same team as last year. Tony "Chap" Edwards led the team in scoring and rebounding. He was aided in shooting from the wings by Samuel Thomas and Brant Cox. Terry Norman was the starter at point at the beginning of the year, but after some trouble with grades was replaced at mid-semester by senior Keith Maddrey, who did an excellent job in the position. District wins over Western Branch, Great Bridge, and Manor highlighted the team's season.

Captains for this year's squad were Brant Cox, Tony James, and Samuel Thomas. Once again Shelton Wilson coached the squad.

All Air. Keith Maddrey appears to be in midair as he shoots one up.

No. 52. Ley Havird looks around as he goes for a lay-up.

On the Roll. Star player Tammy Goldsmith heads down the court to make another one of her many shots.

Locker room. Tammy Goldsmith suits up before going out on the court.

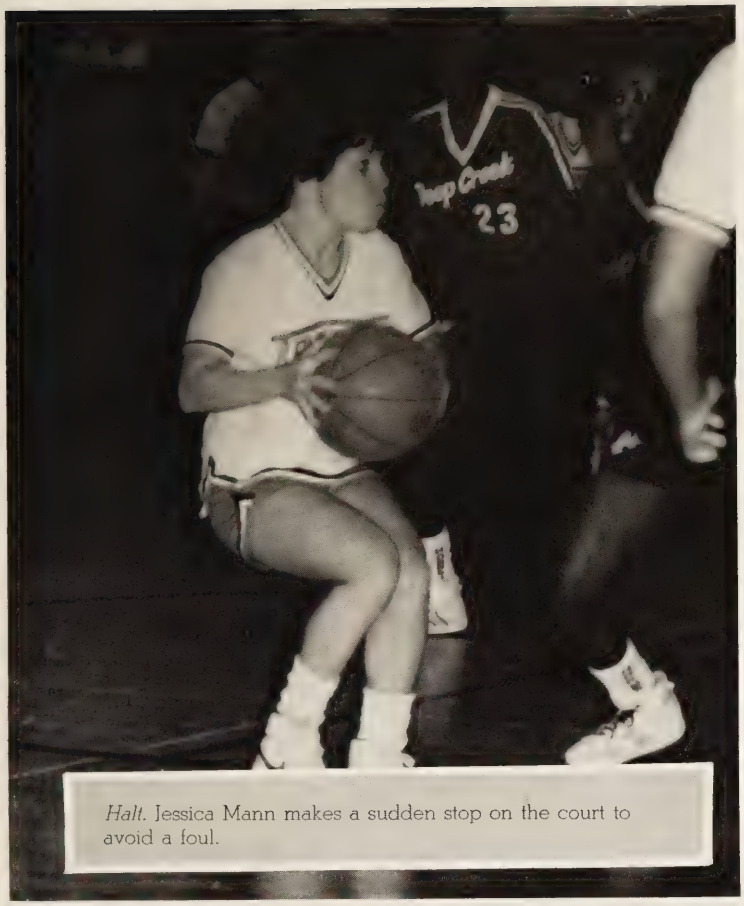
Goldsmith Sets Record



Halt. Jessica Mann makes a sudden stop on the court to avoid a foul.

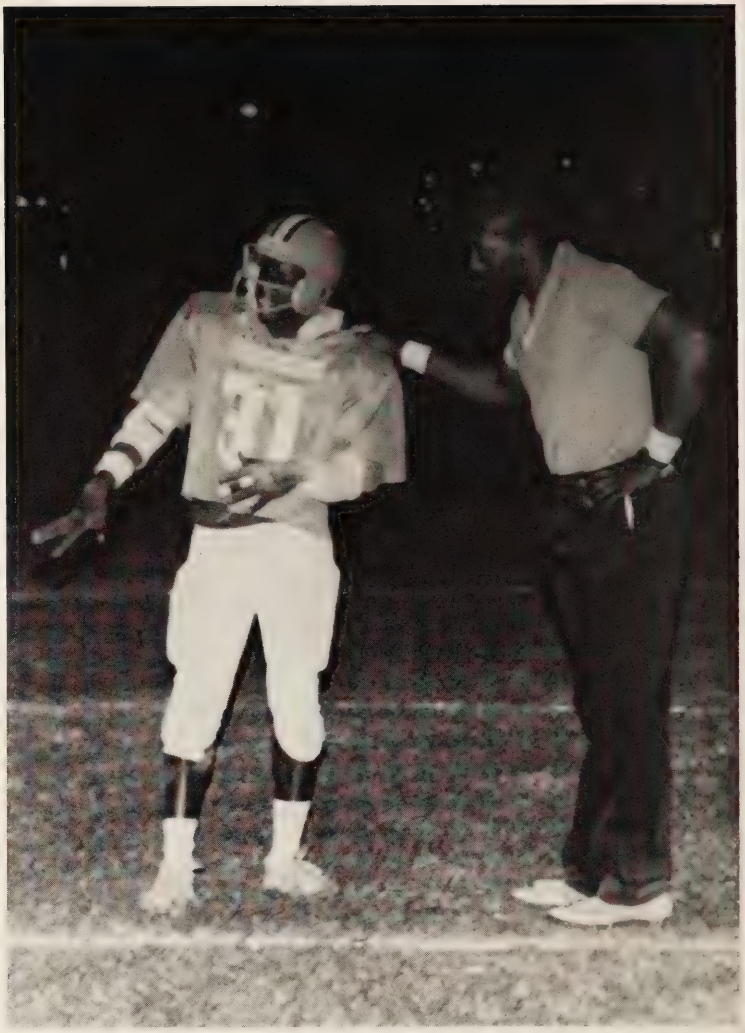
Tammy Goldsmith set a state record when she made a 76 foot shot with two seconds left in the third quarter of the Churchland-Wilson game. The shot, which was on an inbound play thrown in by Tina Strickland, is the second longest in the nation.

Goldsmith averaged 15 rebounds a game. At the same time, Jessica Mann functioned as the brains behind the offense. The team's captain Tina Strickland worked intently on defense. Yvette Perryman also offered assistance with the offense, scoring up to 20 points in some games. Amy Young, the sixth starter, was also a determining factor in the games. The team had all starters from last year, and continued to do well despite the lack of height and size. Starting this year were Tina Strickland, Tammy Goldsmith, Kathy Pfeiffer, Jessica Mann, and Yvette Perryman.

Got It. Tina Davis scores a quick two points.

I can make it. Even in this predicament, Tammy manages to get the shot off.

Support Problems. Because of new scheduling, the support at the girls' games was provided only by parent like Mr. Mann and Mrs. Strickland.



Pep Talk. Coach Calvin Lawrence reviews the next play with #31 Anthony Vaughan.

J.V. Sports See Action

Girls' junior varsity basketball coach Sharon Bowles was overwhelmed by the 35 girls trying out for the team. She noted that the tryouts indicated an increased interest in girls' sports. She just hoped that the new schedule implemented this year did not take away from the support given to girls' sports. Bowles felt that the girls and boys playing at different places on the same night lessened support for the girls' teams. And for the programs to be successful, the girls and boys are going to have to play on different nights, commented Bowles.

As far as the team went, Bowles noted strong performances from the eighth graders. Two returning players making strong contributions were Bev Herr and Tracey Tann, who, however, became ineligible at midterm. What the team lacked in height and experience, they made up for in spirit. She noted that the team worked well as a whole and never gave up.

"Sad Songs," according to junior varsity football player Jimmy Babb, could have been the team's song. Even after grueling practices from August 17 to November 9, the team still had its share of disappointments in the season. With a record of 2-6, the team still, however, managed to stick in there until the end.

Coaching this year's team were Calvin Lawrence and William Griswold.

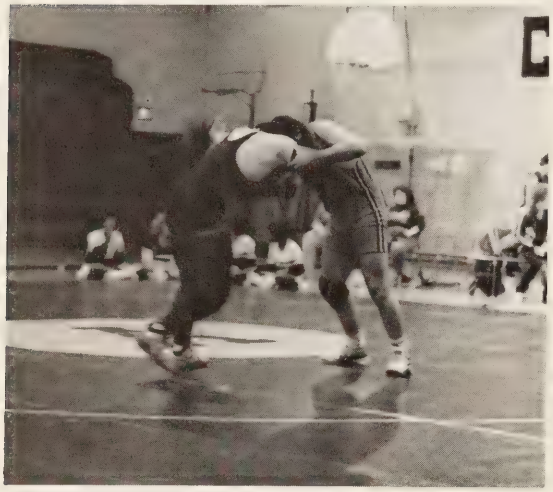
A double overtime victory over rival Manor High School highlighted the boys' junior varsity basketball season. A second victory, this one by one point, put the icing on the cake for the team. The team saw its best performances against city teams, remaining undefeated against city rivals. As Joel Teemant put it, "Much of the credit for the success of the team goes to Coach Deniso, but the players did the dirty work." The team, however, must look forward to a rebuilding next year as it loses seven sophomores out of the team's ten players.

Six Make Regionals

Coach Jack Mounie was pleased with this year's wrestling team. The Trucker Matmen once again competed well within the city, but struggled with opponents outside the city. The team is losing only four seniors to graduation — Terry Hyams, Guy Hale, Jeff Carmines, and Danny Nero. Mounie expects the other wrestlers back next year, which promises to be a banner year with the experience gained from this year's matches. Coach Mounie wishes that the season could have started over because of the improvement shown on the squad. Since the season started the team as a whole has shown great improvement. Among those who have improved were Dusty Crone, Mike Ratanataya, Lee Cobb, James Gray, and Chris Bundy. Danny Nero even wrestled outside his weight class, but did very well. John Outten, who was hurt early in the season, came back fighting and was prepared for his last matches.

Six of the Trucker Matmen qualified for regional action. In the 112 lb. weight class was Guy Hale, who was fourth in the district. Fourth-place district finisher Lee Cobb qualified for the regionals in the 126 lb. weight class. David Rotundo in the 155 lb. class also qualified for the regionals. In the 176 lb. weight class was Terry Hyams, who finished second in the district. Second-place district winner Jeff Carmines qualified in the 185 lb. class. In the unlimited weight class was Churchland matman John Outten, who finished third in the district.

The captain of this year's team was Terry Hyams. The co-captain was Guy Hale.



Unlimited weight. John Outten faced a tough match in his bout with the undefeated Cradock Admiral Alfred Mayfield.

Arm Lock. Using the arm lock, Ronnie Gibson manages to get his opponent to the mat.

For the Pin. Captain Terry Hyams goes for the pin in his match against the Cradock Admirals.

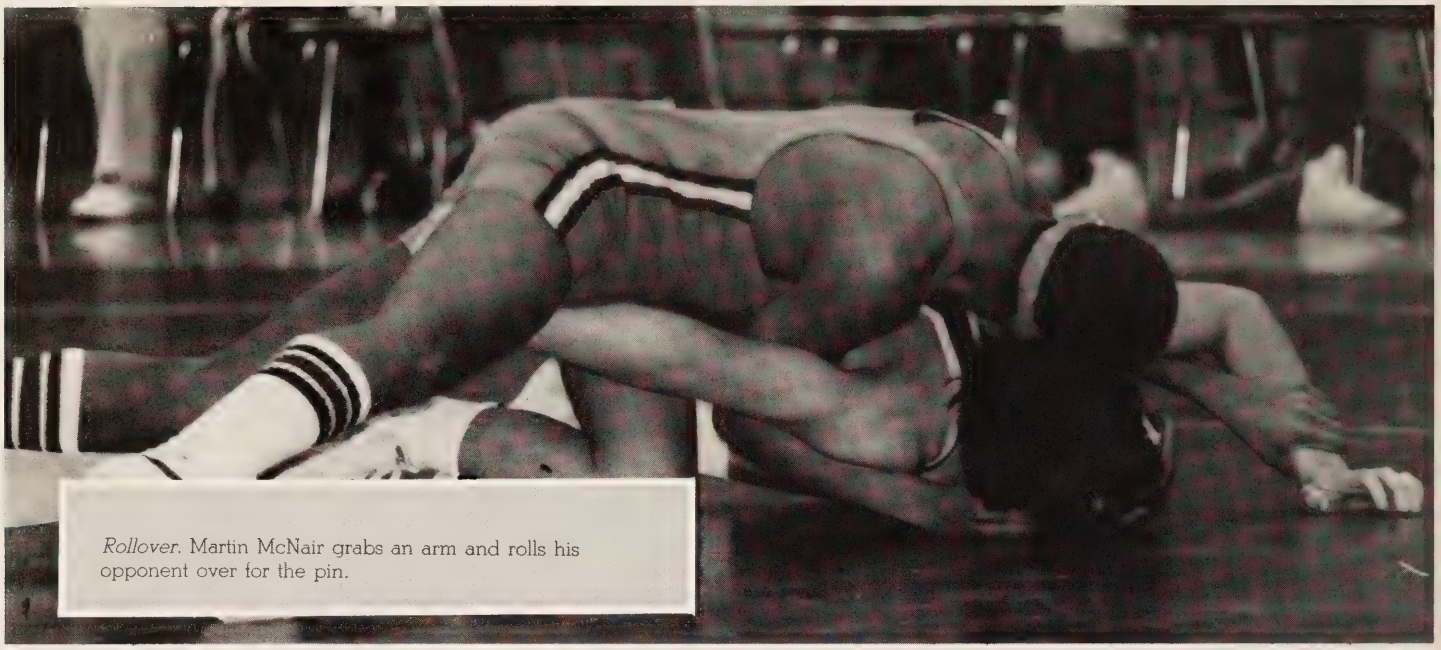
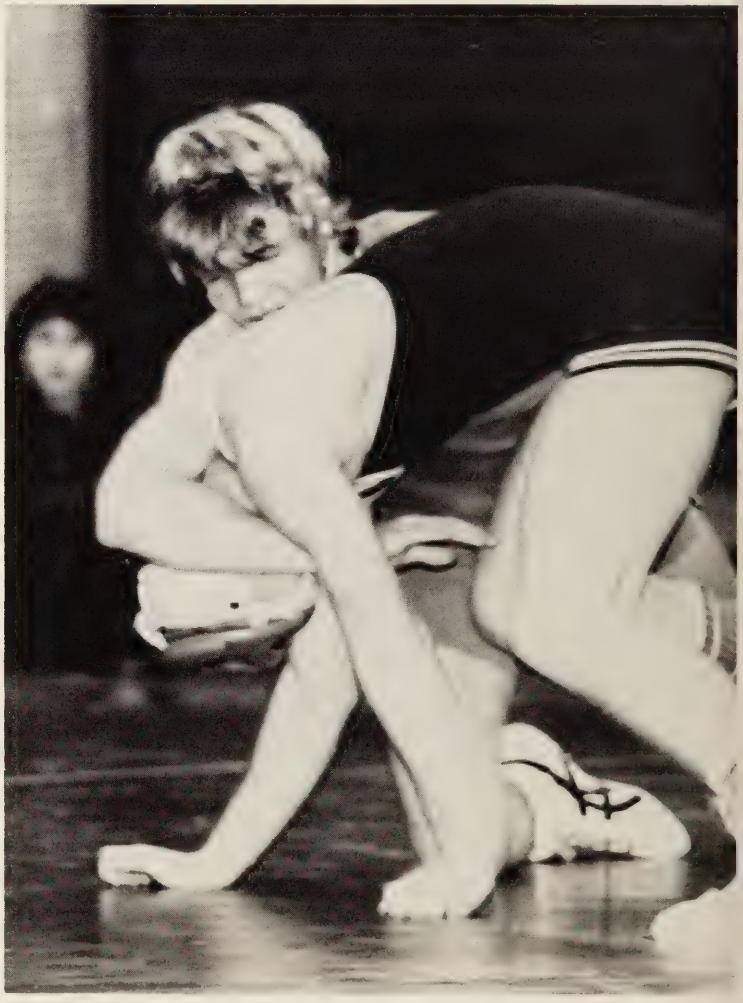
Mounie's Matmen

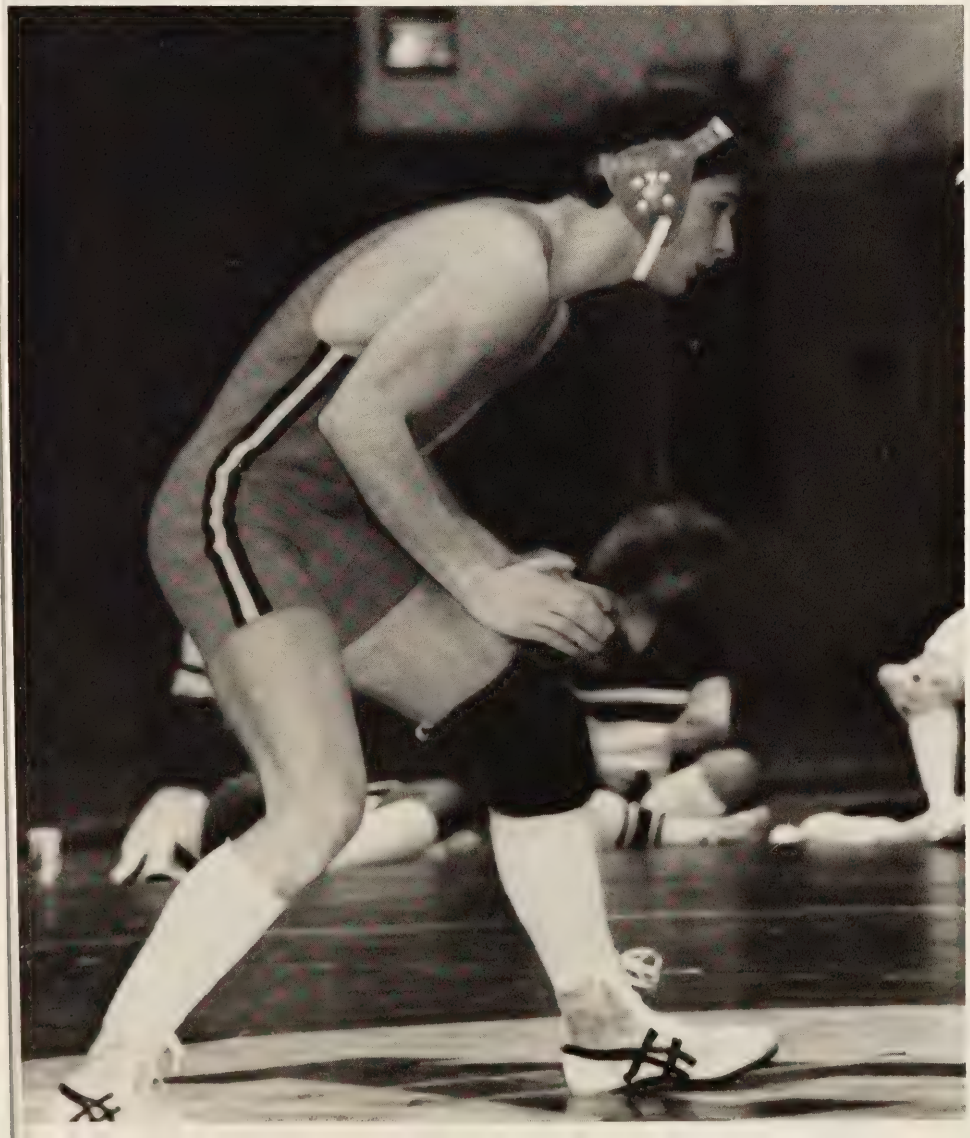


Rollover. Martin McNair grabs an arm and rolls his opponent over for the pin.

Restoring Fluids. After a convincing win, Dan Nero has some Gatorade to restore fluids lost to exercise.



Head Manuever. James Gray uses a head manuever to get his opponent on his back.



Two More Moves. One pull of the arm and a rollover and David Rotundo has his opponent pinned.

Standing position. Chris Bundy readies himself to start his match against a Cradock Admiral. Chris was the victor in this particular match.

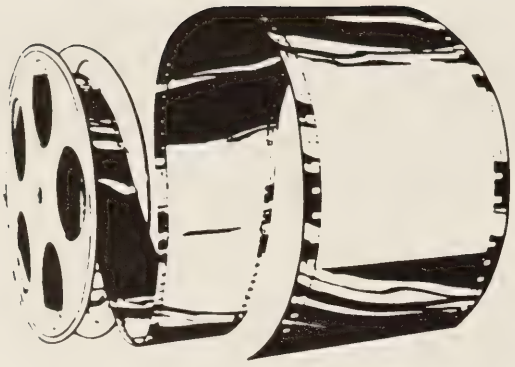
Thanks

Special thanks to our adviser and friend, Marvin Fanny. We appreciate his help. Without his efforts this book would have never been possible. But most of all, we thank him for his friendship. He is truly a dedicated adviser who is highly thought of by our staff.

Thanks again,
The Yearbook Staff



THE YEAR 1985

And what did the 1984-85 school year have in store for us?

On the national scene Ronald Wilson Reagan was elected to a second term as President of the United States. His opponents in this bid for re-election were Walter Mondale and Geraldine Ferraro, who became the first woman to run for vice-president on a major party's ticket. Students became enraged at two new laws — a higher drinking age of 21 for the purchase of all alcoholic beverages and the new search law which allowed school officials to search a student's possessions if there were probable cause that the student possessed illegal substances. Vanessa Williams became the first Miss America to be asked to relinquish her crown. The request from pageant officials arouse from an explicit photo layout which appeared in a national magazine. She was succeeded by Suzette Charles. The rage in toys was once again the Cabbage Patch doll.

In Portsmouth, three new city officials appeared on the scene — a new police chief, a new mayor, and a new school superintendent. Dr. James W. Holley, III became Portsmouth's first black mayor. Dr. Rondle Edwards was named the new superintendent of the Portsmouth Public Schools. He succeeded Dr. M.E. Alford who retired in June, 1984, after 19 years of service to the system. Portside, Portsmouth's answer to Norfolk's Waterside, opened off Crawford Parkway. Talk was rampant over closing one of Portsmouth's five public high schools.

Locally in the Churchland community, the long awaited widening of West Norfolk Road to a four lane road became a reality. A new shopping center, Churchland Place, opened across the street from Poplar Hall Plaza.

At Churchland High School students encountered 15 more minutes added to the day and one more extra day added to the school year. Weighted grades for accelerated classes at last became a reality. The Churchland High PTA sponsored an extensive drug and alcohol awareness program for parents and student to warn each group of the dangers of drugs and alcohol. Seniors found English 12 a challenge when it was taken under new English teacher Marvin Fanny. At Homecoming 1984 Robyn Twine reigned as Homecoming Queen. And after two years of deadlines, deadlines, and more deadlines, editor-in-chief Cathy McCoy, who served two years in the capacity, turned her reigns over to her successor.

Lionel Richie, Prince, and Bruce Springsteen made headlines in the music scene. After many years of duo work, Tina Turner returned to the top in perfect form. Other groups seeing action were Van Halen, Hall and Oates, and Chicago. Cyndi Lauper and her outrageous manner brought delight to many. Mick Jagger published his first solo album. The world was saddened by the death of singer Marvin Gaye.

Soap operas such as Dallas and Dynasty continued to draw night time television viewers. The highest rated new show was The Bill Cosby Show.

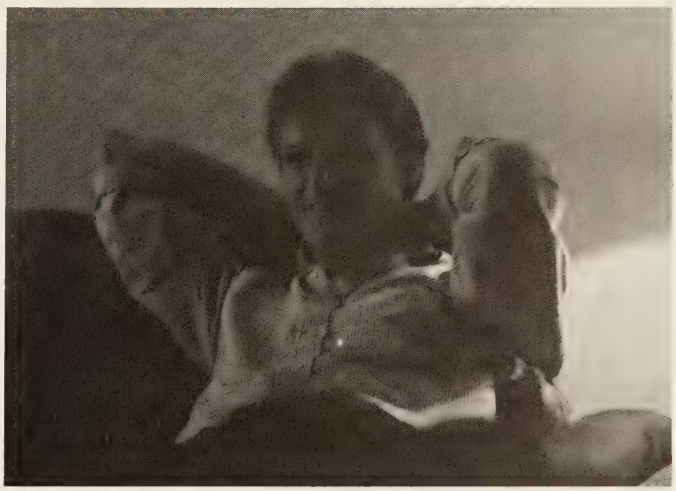
The San Francisco 49ers won the Super Bowl while the Detroit Tigers won the World Series. America won big at the Summer Olympics held in Los Angeles, California. Here at Churchland, Tammy Goldsmith set a United States Record with a 76 foot shot on the basketball court.

Fashion trends changed almost weekly. Clothing trends and fads included faded jeans, big earrings, two toned pants, leather pants and ties, parachute pants, and sweater dresses. Hairstyles included rat tails, spiked hair, and the "fade." The biggest fashion trend, however, was the wearing of flourescent colors — bright neon-like greens, pinks, yellows, and oranges.

1985 was the year for all and for everything.

Fashion. Lisa Kaye and Stacey Murphy model the latest fashion styles.

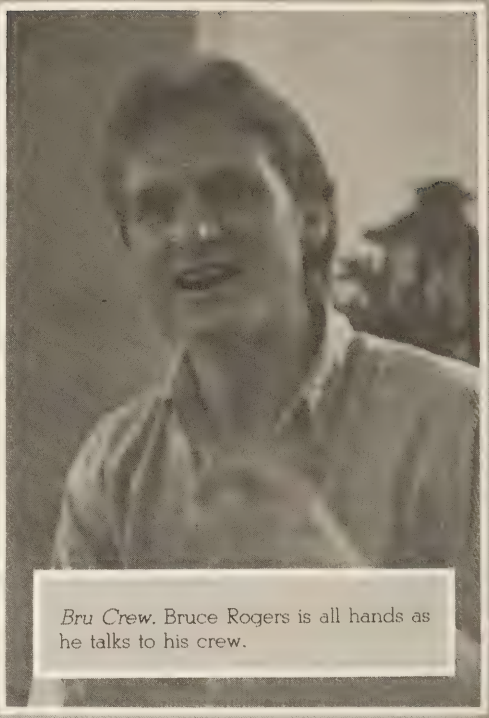


MTV. Bruce Rogers sits back and listens to latest from Hall and Oates, Bruce Springsteen, and Tina Turner on Music Television.

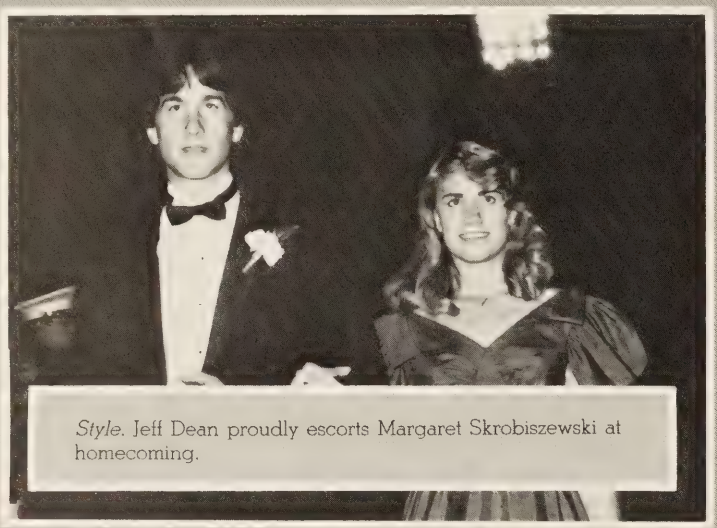
Her Majesty. Homecoming Queen 1984 was Robyn Twine.

ROLL CALL!

How does one close a yearbook? End a year? It is fitting to end this book with a look back at the actors — the characters in our drama — who made this the year to be stepping out. For as Shakespeare put it, "All the world's a stage, and we are merely actors upon it."



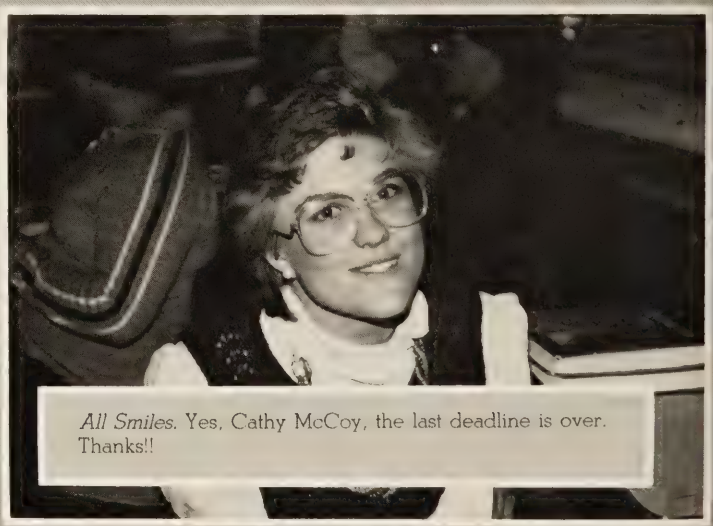
Bru Crew. Bruce Rogers is all hands as he talks to his crew.



Style. Jeff Dean proudly escorts Margaret Skrobiszewski at homecoming.

Togetherness. Sharing a laugh are Stephanie Rumley, Meimii Vaughan, and Belinda Holloman.

Spirit. Steve LaPlante and Brad Riddick display two of their spirit week costumes.

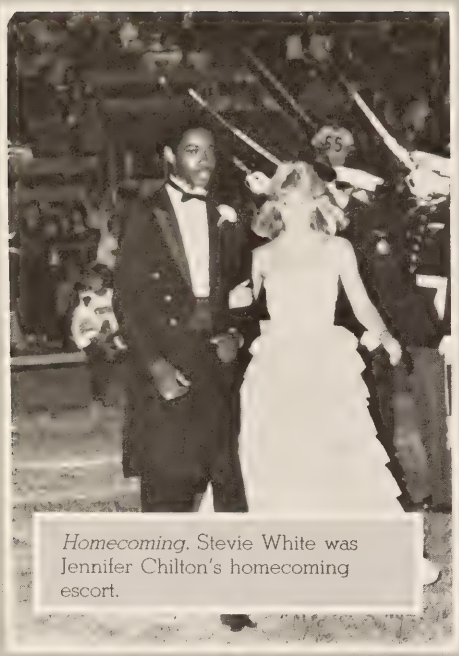


All Smiles. Yes, Cathy McCoy, the last deadline is over. Thanks!!

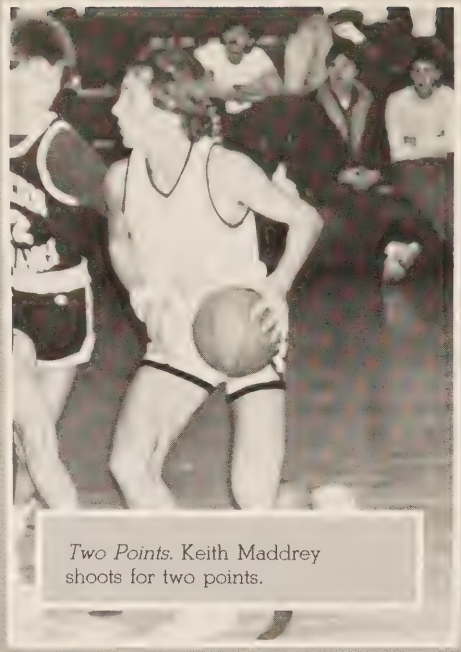
Jump. Lee Cobb warms up before his wrestling match at Cradock.

Help!! Can Gerry Brunk function without the mask? Maybe not. Thanks, Gerry!

Time. Waiting for his time on the field is star player Anthony Edwards.

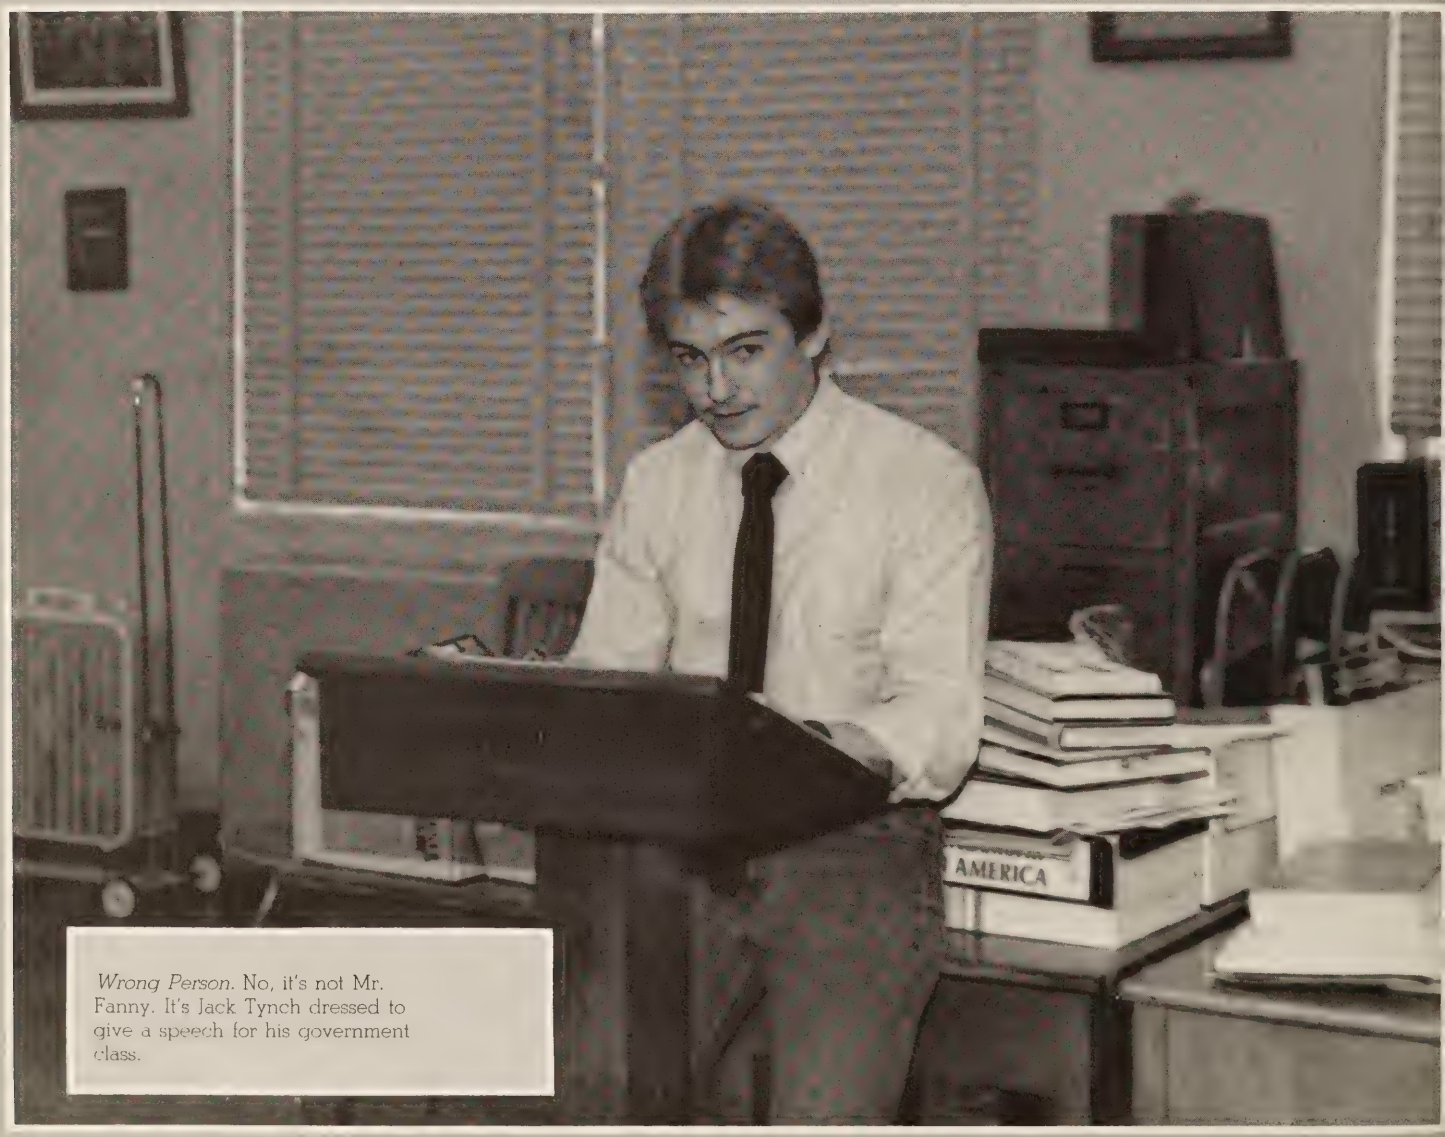


Homecoming. Stevie White was Jennifer Chilton's homecoming escort.



Two Points. Keith Maddrey shoots for two points.

Homebound. Heading home for the day is Bonnie Armentrout.



Wrong Person. No, it's not Mr. Fanny. It's Jack Tynch dressed to give a speech for his government class.

Memorizing. John Skrobiszewski reviews his lines with Sterling Weaver.

Spotlight. Jerry Dickens and Amy Young sing a duet.

Christmas Tree. Jonathan Benn does his best impersonation of a Christmas tree.

Seeing It All. By standing on the bench, Dan Nero catches all action on the field.

The Final Act

As the spotlight dims and the stage darkens on another school year, each of us takes time to look back at the moments when we were stepping out at our finest. Whether it were in the academics, the arts, or athletics, we were giving it our best. We may have stumbled along the way, or we may have forgotten a line or two. However, we gave it our all. Yes, we were a success. As we heard the final strands of "Pomp and Circumstance," we knew it was over. It was the end of an era for us, the class of 1985. It was Act IV — the final act. For others there were other scenes to be played out, but for us it was curtain time. At least we had learned what it was like to be stepping out — stepping out into a world that had so much to offer.

High Stepping. Cathy McCoy and Amee Baker strut their stuff at a chorus assembly.

Royal Movements. Robyn Twine and her escort Bland Burkhardt step to the music after she was crowned homecoming queen.
